

Topcon to Accelerate Growth through Management Buyout with KKR and JIC Capital*Powerful combination of KKR and JICC creates stable foundations for Topcon to pursue long-term growth*

TOKYO, Japan – March 28, 2025 – Topcon Corporation (“Topcon” or the “Company”; TSE stock code 7732), today announced that it is launching a management buyout (“MBO”) led by Topcon President and CEO Takashi Eto. The MBO will receive investment from funds managed by KKR, a leading global investment firm, and JIC Capital (“JICC”), a wholly owned subsidiary of Japan Investment Corporation (“JIC”). In connection with the MBO, TK Co., Ltd. (the “Offeror”), an entity owned by investment funds managed by KKR, intends to make a tender offer for the common shares and share acquisition rights, etc. of the Company. Topcon’s Board of Directors has resolved to support this tender offer and recommends that shareholders and share acquisition right holders tender their securities.

The tender offer price will be JPY 3,300 per share, determined after negotiations between KKR and Topcon.

The proposed tender offer price represents¹:

- A 99.5% premium over the simple average closing price of Topcon’s stock for the 12 months up to December 9, 2024; and
- A 105.2% premium over the simple average closing price of Topcon’s stock for the 6 months up to December 9, 2024.

KKR is making this investment predominantly from its Asian Fund IV, and it is planned that KKR will indirectly hold a majority interest in Topcon. Following the completion of the tender offer, JICC intends to indirectly hold voting rights in Topcon through JIC PE Fund No. 1 and JIC PE Co-Investment Fund No. 1, investment limited partnerships managed by JICC. Topcon President and CEO Takashi Eto also intends to participate in the tender offer and plans to make a reinvestment after the completion of the tender offer; the details of his investment are yet to be determined.

Topcon is pursuing its long-term vision leading up to its 100th anniversary in 2032, and the Company has been implementing its "Mid-Term Management Plan 2025" covering the fiscal years 2023–2025. Under this plan, Topcon has pursued sustainable business growth and improved profitability by deepening its orientation towards customers, and as the next step, the Company aims to evolve into "New Topcon 2.0," a business structure that will further accelerate the competitiveness of the Topcon Group. In particular, to transform its eye care business from a hardware-based business to a solutions business, and to achieve further growth in its positioning business, where the competitive environment is rapidly changing, the Company believes that bold, long-term investments and fundamental transformations beyond conventional business reforms are necessary.

Following an in-depth evaluation of all options, Topcon concluded that a management buyout in strategic partnership with KKR and JICC offers the Company the best path to achieve its long-term objectives and enhance its corporate value to benefit all stakeholders, including shareholders. Topcon's competitive edge lies in the combination of its advanced hardware design and manufacturing capabilities, rooted in Japanese craftsmanship, and its rapidly growing solutions business, particularly in the United States. Topcon believes that it is essential to develop an agile corporate structure to undertake bold investments and implement long-term initiatives. As a private company, the strategic partnership and patient capital support from KKR and JICC will enable Topcon to stay agile, undertake the bold investments and implement the long-term initiatives needed to accelerate its growth and strengthen its competitiveness. Topcon's current management team will continue to operate the Company and work with its shareholders to implement management initiatives to efficiently and quickly achieve its long-term goals.

Additionally, Topcon leverages its cutting-edge optical technology to develop and manufacture products for the space and defense industry, which is critical to Japan's national security. Therefore, JICC's investment will help the Company to develop these business areas and increase its value in the long term.

For KKR, Japan is a key market for its Asia Pacific and global strategy; it has around $18 billion in assets under management in the country. In the ophthalmology sector related to Topcon’s business, KKR has a long track record, including National Vision, an optical retailer in the US; nexeye, a provider of value-for-money eye care in Europe; and Lenskart, an omni-channel eyewear retailer in India, and in the adjacent construction and civil engineering fields within the industrial sector, GeoStabilization International, a provider of geohazard mitigation solutions and roadway safety services in the US. KKR looks to support Topcon's growth after the privatization by leveraging its global network, deep operational expertise and investment experience in the ophthalmology, healthcare, and industrial sectors to share best practices and help Topcon expand internationally, including in the US, a priority market.

JICC, as a government-affiliated fund, has built deep public-private networks and operational know-how through extensive investment experience in Japan and overseas. JICC will support Topcon's transformation into a global solutions company centered on its eye care business, which will contribute to the creation of new industries and strengthen international competitiveness, and JICC will support this due to its policy significance. In particular, JICC's long-term, neutral funds will be essential to support Topcon's long-term structural reforms and growth strategies. Also, JICC will complement KKR's private markets expertise, with this combination of public and private funds providing medium- to long-term risk sharing and strong capital and credit alignment.

Takeshi Eto, President and CEO of Topcon, said "Today's announcement represents a crucial step in realizing "Topcon 2.0" and in achieving our long-term vision and to drive future growth. Strategically partnering with KKR and JICC will enable us to focus on bold, agile investments and management initiatives, including structural reforms, without being constrained by potential short-term uncertainties. I am confident that our close alignment between the management team and our future shareholders for this MBO will enable us to address mid- to long-term challenges together, implement management initiatives more effectively, and accelerate our business expansion."

Hiro Hirano, Deputy Executive Chairman of KKR Asia Pacific and CEO of KKR Japan, said, "We have long admired Topcon's strong product offering and are delighted to have the opportunity to invest behind their long-term global ambitions. As like-minded strategic partners, we are also pleased to join forces with JICC, who possess a deeply unique understanding of Japan and Topcon's critical sectors and equal commitment towards the Company's success. We look forward to collaborating closely with Mr. Eto and his talented management team and JICC to help Topcon accelerate its growth, including through our global network of industry experts and portfolio companies, and achieve its goal of becoming a leading global solutions company."

Shogo Ikeuchi, President and CEO of JIC Capital, said, "This transaction and joint investment with KKR marks a significant milestone for JICC. We believe that this strategic partnership between our three companies will certainly enhance the stability of Topcon's management, while at the same time paving the way for KKR to contribute significantly to Topcon's business. KKR has unique strengths that other investors and companies cannot achieve, and by making the most of KKR's outstanding strategic insights and resources, we are confident that Topcon will be able to achieve sustainable, stable growth and strengthen its leadership in the global market. Topcon is an excellent example of Japan's manufacturing prowess, and JICC aims to be a strong partner for Topcon to continue to grow its business in Japan and achieve its bold corporate strategy to transform from a hardware company to a global solutions business with significant overseas growth."
